

○ We allow each manufacturer to indicate whether their program is a stand-alone EHR, or an EHR/PM program.

○ The Self-Serve System will filter through our database allowing you to see each program which is within your budgetary constraints.

EHR Scope provides information on over 240 different EHR software programs. The compendium on the following 120 pages can be viewed either in a printed or on-line manner.

If you'd like to browse through the listings alphabetically, either method is convenient. However, if you are looking for a solution for a particular specialty, for a particular environment, or possibly using a specific operating system, for example, the on-line version may be easier for you.

Using the CNTRL-F key combination within the .pdf file, you can easily search for any term or phrase which is of interest to you. As examples, correctional facilities, Mac users, and Ophthalmologists could all search for those respective words and readily find appropriate software for them.

So, if you are reading this, while holding it in your hands, we encourage you to visit www.ehrscope.com and download an electronic copy, so that you can use this search functionality.

Some of the graphics may not be entirely self-evident, particularly the Target Market graph. It is designed to offer information at a rapid glance, concerning the size practices for which the software is designed.

We hope you enjoy reading through the Compendium, and encourage you to call us if you have any questions.

Also, please note that CCHIT[®] certification status, according to CCHIT is either "Yes or No."

Annotation of The EHR Listings

The screenshot shows a listing for 'Prototypical EHR'. Annotations include:

- Company Name: Points to the header 'Prototypical EHR'.
- Company Logo: Points to the 'P-EHR Prototypical EHR' logo.
- Description: Points to the text 'Prototypical EHR is not a real company. Here is where you'll find the description of the company and their EHR.'
- For which specialties this EHR is appropriate: Points to the 'Specialties' section listing various medical fields.
- For which size practice the software is most suitable: Points to the 'Target Market' bar chart.
- Here is a link to additional information: Points to the 'More Information' link at the bottom.
- EMR Name and Demographics: Points to the top right header area.
- Release Dates: Points to the 'Current Release Date' and 'Original Release Date' fields.
- Dragon NaturallySpeaking[®] Compatibility: Points to the five-star rating.
- Explanation of which environment the EHR works well: Points to the 'Practice Environment' and 'Structure' sections.
- Client/Server or ASP: EMR/PM: Operating System Database: Points to the 'Structure' section which lists these options.